The past four weeks at STRIVE have been very educational to me. I have learned valuable lessons in the importance of communication. I have also learned about the process of seeking employment. One of the greatest lessons my time in STRIVE has taught me is that I am the only person stopping me from success.

Part of the success I have held back from is properly dealing with people. I have learned though, through STRIVE, is that I can be the nicest guy, on the most qualified, and fall short in life, because I do not know what to say, or when to say it. This holds true in life on the whole. It is especially imparitive though, in the job search.

am now the type of person to help myself, and others. I have learned to flip negativity to positivity, and build from there

I was unemployed for 9 months before ~~STRIVE~~, and halfway through the program I got a job. 3 weeks has changed my outlook. ~~STRIVE~~ has truly supported and trained for results in this valuable employee.
